Trustees Eye Senior Nutrition Program, Budget

The Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees met Tuesday night and approved the preparation of an application for funds to finance a senior citizen nutrition plan, looked over the preliminary budget for the 1973-74 year, and handled other routine and end-of-year matters.

A feasibility study underway on the senior citizen nutrition program has indicated that about 250 older persons in Lemon Grove would be involved in a central hot meal and take-home snack program, probably located at Lemon Grove Junior High or Golden Avenue School. There would be no cost to the school district.

The preliminary budget for next year was submitted and discussed briefly, as trustees noted that it was considerably smaller than the current budget, reflecting an anticipated decrease in enrollment.

Rotarians Attend Sweden Convention

Five Lemon Grove Rotary Club families will be represented later this month at the Rotary International Convention in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Theme for the 1973 convention is "A New Look at World Peace."

Roster for the Lemon Grove club shows 30 members. Five members represent more than 16 per cent of the club's membership in attendance—probably higher than any other club in the nation.

Those attending will be Nathan Hale, James Peebles, John Penery, Dr. Harry Sortberg and Roger Verbiest.

The local club meets Mondays at noon at the Bowlero.

'Women's Week' At Grossmont College

This week has been proclaimed "Women's Week" at Grossmont College. With the theme "New Horizons for Women," the week will feature presentations by authorities on civil rights, career opportunities for women and opportunities in education for women.

A dramatic presentation from Scene 1, Act 1 of "Lysistrata," will be presented. A self-defense demonstration featuring Karate and judo as well as films of concern to women will also be presented. Panel discussions will be conducted.

Carnival Opens; Old Time Days Parade in Lemon Grove May 19

Bands, Floats To Highlight Parade

Lemon Grove Old Time Days, which don't officially begin until next week, got off to a rousing start Saturday night with a kickoff dinner at the VFW Hall and continued this week with the opening of the OTD Carnival at St. John of the Cross Church.

At the kickoff dinner, OTD Parade Chairman Don McCray told the small but enthusiastic crowd that this year's parade would be a record breaker, with over sixty entries already signed up.

Included in the parade will be floats from the St. John's CYO, the Lemon Grove Lions Club, St. Philip's Church, Molly's Texaco, and the Ox Bow Inn. St. Philip's has also scheduled a barbeque, which will follow the parade.

Another feature of the 1973 parade, which will begin at 11 a.m. May 19, with Grand Marshal Bob Mills leading the way, will be an unusually large number of bands, including the award-winning Mt. Miguel High School band.

Other bands already booked are the San Diego City-County Band, the Montgomery High School band, the Mar Vista High School Band, the Lemon Grove Junior High band and the Home Federal Marching band, Cameron's Highlanders Bagpipe band, and the Ozzy's Marching band.

Feasibility Study Planned For Youth Center Reopening

Another lease on life may be given the Lemon Grove Youth Center as youth facility, it was decided this week.

Len Farness, a local businessman and former president of the Center Assn., said that he had accepted the presidency again, contingent upon a feasibility study being made.

The group assigned Caddy Jackson, a seminary student associated with the Human Relations Assn. and United Project Understanding, to do the research. Jackson is also associated with six churches including the United Church of Christ and United Methodist church, both in Lemon Grove.

The Youth Center feasibility study will show, Jackson said, whether the Center should reopen and if so under what conditions. It will also contain recommendations for staffing, if the study shows it should reopen. It will also outline a funding program. All of these contingencies are involved in Farness' conditions of acceptance.

"I think we can open it again," Farness said "but enough people must show a willingness to participate to make the effort worth while." Verna Quinn had been presiding at the Y.C. Assn. during Farness' hiatus.

NEW QUEEN — Suzanne Pickerd, 17-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Pickerd, was named 1973 Miss Lemon Grove at the annual Rotary-sponsored contest at Lemon Grove Junior High Saturday night.

SV Rotary To Meet

The weekly luncheon meeting of the Spring Valley Rotary Club will be Friday, at 12:10 p.m., in the Ox Bow Inn, Campo rd. All Rotarians are welcome, said president Greg Barker.

Guest speaker will be Jerry Mann, field representative for County Supervisor Dick Brown, who will be talking about areas of concern and the growth problem.

Suzanne Pickerd Is 'Miss Lemon Grove'

Suzanne Pickerd, 17-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Pickerd, of 1324 Brad-dock st., San Diego, is the 1973 Miss Lemon Grove, after receiving the crown from 1972 queen Barbara Kotnik.

First runner up in the Lemon Grove Rotary - sponsored contest, held Saturday night at Lemon Grove Junior High, is Carol McCrea. Second runner up is Carmella Alesi. The first runner up must function as Miss Lemon Grove if Miss Pickerd is unable to do so.

The new beauty queen will now join the winners of other preliminary contests in the Fairest of the Fair Pageant in June, held annually to select a queen to reign over the Southern California Exposition at Del Mar. Debra Holland, earlier selected as Miss Spring Valley, will also compete in the Fairest of the Fair Pageant.

An audience of near capacity was entertained by Dale Bailey's Sound Company from Skyline Wesleyan Church.

At her school, she is a member of the girls' ensemble, the choir, and the student council. Also a member of the San Diego Youth Chorale, she was recently selected Miss Senior Class and was a recipient of a California State Scholarship.

She described the contest as a lot of fun, but admitted that she was nervous while awaiting the judges' decision.

Marie Hitchcock, San Diego's official Puppet Lady and Lemon Grove Soroptimists' Honorary Member, took time Wednesday to do a special favor for handicapped children of the Rogers School Annex in Chula Vista, as a Soroptimist service.

Mrs. Hitchcock had entertained the young physically handicapped students earlier in the year with her puppet show. At that time she promised to come back with her puppets and allow the young students to invite as their guests the regular students at the Rogers School.

Admission to the show, entitled "Desolation Plus" is free and open to the public.

Mills Named Grand Marshal For Parade

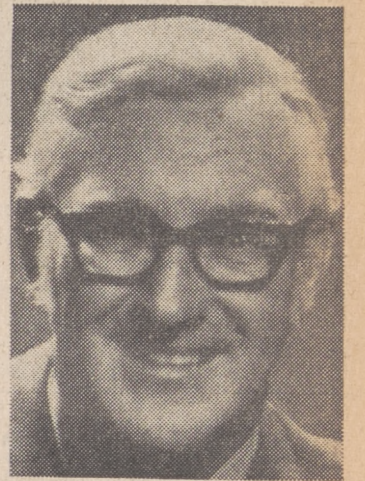

One of San Diego's best known television personalities, KGTV-10's Bob Mills, has been named grand marshal of the Lemon Grove Old Time Days Parade, which will be May 19 at 11 a.m. down Broadway in Lemon Grove.

Mills serves double duty at channel 10 by hosting the weekday afternoon "Dialing For Dollars" movie and producing and narrating "Bob Mills' San Diego" on the station's evening news program.

Mills broke into the television over a decade ago, hosting the "Sun-Up" news and talk show for KFME-TV 8 before moving to KCST Channel 39, and finally to KGTV.

Bob was graduated from Marshall College in Huntington, West Virginia. He began his broadcasting career at WOVN Radio in Defiance, Ohio, and worked for radio stations in Kentucky, Texas, and West Virginia before entering the television field at WSAZ-TV in West Virginia.

During his 22 years as a television personality, he has emceed variety and children's shows, announced news, weather and special events, narrated films, conducted talent contests and charity telethons, and been a commercial spokesman.

In 1964 he was selected as the first San Diego television personality to emcee the celebrity-studded stage show at the Southern California Exposition at Del Mar.

The Watergate Cast

"Ironside" wheeled his chair into the Oval Room of the White House. His big, dark eyes mirrored the sorrow felt by most Americans as the deep, calm voice of Raymond Burr said: "And sir, on that night in June, 1972, did you not say 'and if you do it, don't let me know about it?'"

What a plot for a teevee play! They could bill it "The Watergate Caper" and list a cast of more than 40 "stars." Just like the Watergate matter now being unfolded before the perplexed and distressed nation. It has not been shown that the Head Man knew about it—but many suspect that he did. And it is likely he told the conspirators not to tell him anything. He didn't want to know about such disgraceful matters.

The plot is so diverse and the cast is so large that it has become one of the first major news stories to demand a program to know who is who.

It is with that thought that this list of characters is being presented. Clip it and put it in a handy place. You'll need it often in the coming days. The list:

Alfred C. Baldwin III—Operated listening post on Democratic National Committee headquarters in the Watergate apartment. Former FBI agent. Worked under James W. McCord Jr., security coordinator, President Nixon's reelection campaign.

Bernard L. Barker—A wealthy Cuban-born real estate developer who was caught inside the Watergate and convicted.

Dwight L. Chapin—White House appointments secretary who quit in January after it became known that he had hired his USC classmate, Donald H. Segretti, to perform acts of political sabotage and espionage against Democratic presidential candidates.

Charles W. Colson—Former presidential special counsel whose name turned up in a pocket address book of E. Howard Hunt Jr. He was a White House trouble shooter who led the attack on McGovern and masterminded the release from prison of former Teamsters President James Hoffa.

Samuel Dash—Chief Counsel for Sen. Sam J. Ervin's Watergate investigating committee.

Kenneth H. Dahlberg—a rich Minneapolis manufacturer and midwest finance chairman for the President's reelection committee. His name was on a $25,000 cashier's check in the bank account of Bernard Barker.

John W. Dean III—Presidential counsel, who former Acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray said was the person who ordered him to destroy files in Howard Hunt's office that Dean described as "political dynamite". This is said to have occurred soon after the Watergate arrests.

John D. Ehrlichman—Former chief assistant to the President for domestic affairs. Allegedly involved in the Dean-Gray FBI files activity but denies knowing the files' contents or ordering them destroyed.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr.—Chairman of the Senate committee investigating Watergate. A 76-year old Democrat and former N. Carolina judge who caused President Nixon to abandon his claims of executive privilege. Has wide reputation for fairness.

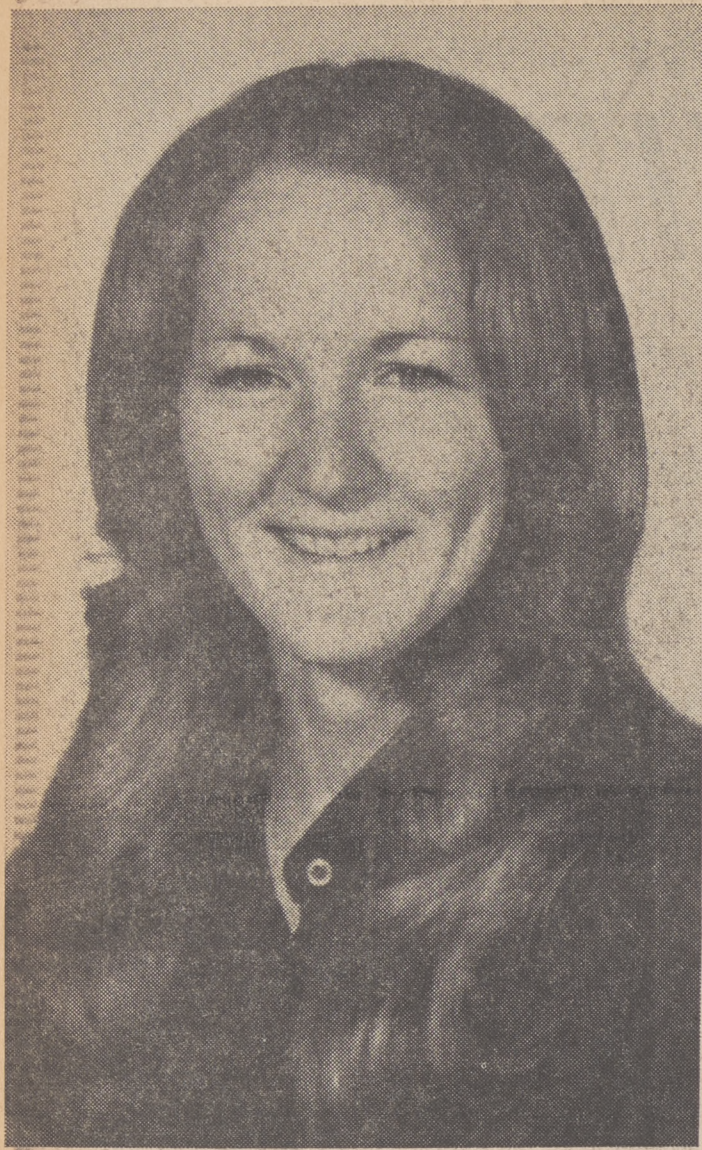

Virgilio R. Gonzales—Convicted Watergate figure, Cuban born locksmith. Was involved with CIA-Bay of Pigs fiasco.

L. Patrick Gray III—Resigned as acting Director of FBI after it was disclosed that he had destroyed incriminating Watergate files without reading them. These were the files allegedly supplied by Hunt and supposedly destroyed on orders from Dean in the presence of Ehrlichman.

SV BEAUTIFUL — Herb Ketell, president of the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce, passes out trash collection bags to cub scouts at Spring Valley Beautiful Campaign kickoff ceremonies Saturday. The two-day campaign netted several trash receptacles full of "sight pollution" and litter, and made Spring Valley a lot more beautiful, Ketell said.

JUNE BRIDE — Miss Jeanne Marie Mellon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Mellon, of La Mesa, will exchange vows with Harry J. Deeter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray H. Deeter, of 8022 Mazer St., Lemon Grove. The bride-to-be is a graduate of Helix High School and attended Grossmont College. She is currently employed at the Safeway store in Mission Village. Deeter is a Mr. Miguel graduate and is currently employed by Superior Tile Co. They will be married June 30.

Helix Groups Earn Maytime Band Awards

The Helix High School marching band and the Hi-Steppers, the school's specialty corps, walked away with two of the top awards at the 26th annual Maytime Band Review in National City over the weekend.

The Highlander band tallied 94,445 points to claim first place in this division, second only to Sweepstakes winner Laora of Anaheim, which scored 9,800 points.

The Hi-Steppers claimed the coveted Marching and Maneuvering Award, while drum major Steve Redmond tied for third place in the Mace Drum Major judging.

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

How to use "me, to, se" and "nos" is sometimes a puzzle for the beginning student in Spanish. These are pronouns and their English equivalents have either "self" or "selves" as a suffix. They are phonetically pronounced "meh,teh,seh" and "nohs" respectively.

"Me" means "myself." It may appear in expressions like "No me diga." (Don't tell me.) and "No me asuste." (Don't frighten me.) It may also appear as a suffix to infinitive forms as seen in the sentences "Ella va a verme muy pronto." (She is going to see me very soon.) and "El no puede oirme ahora." (He can not hear me now.)

"Te" means "yourself" and is used only when talking to a loved one or with someone with whom you are familiar. This is demonstrated in the sentences "Te gusta comer temprano con nosotros." (You like to eat early with us.) and "Te sientes mejor que nunca." (You feel better now.) As you may note the literal translation of "te" is not translated into English because it would appear redundant as in "You yourself feel better."

"Se" is perhaps one of the most complex forms because it can assume so many meanings. It can mean "himself" and "herself." This is demonstrated in the phrases "Se enoja facilmente." (He gets himself angry easily) and "Ella se cansa con el trabajo." (She tires herself with the work.) "Se" may also be used with the values equivalent to the English "one, they," or "people." This is seen in expressions like "Se habla Espanol aqui." (One speaks Spanish here.) or (People speak Spanish here.)

"Nos" is translated "ourselves." This usage is demonstrated as a suffix in the expressions "Vamos a entendernos." (We are going to understand ourselves.) and "No podemos vernos." (We can not see ourselves.)

Try saying the following phrases with the recorded voice (276-2762).

Say "Vamos a vernos." (VAH-mos ah VEHR-nohs) for "We are going to see ourselves."

Say "Te enojas facilmente." (teh eh-NOH-hehs fah-seel MEHN-teh) for "You go yourself angered easily."

Say "Me voy pronto." (meh VOH-ee PROHN-toh) for "I am going (myself) soon."

Say "Se habla espanol aqui." (seh AHB-lah eh-spahn-YOHL ah-KEE for "(Some one) speaks Spanish here."

Say "Se cansa ella facilmente." (seh KAHN-sah EH-yah fah-seel-MEHN-teh for "She tires (herself) easily."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

We have seen dramatic progress away from war and in the direction of that generation of peace which is the goal of our nation. At the same time, it would be folly for us to believe that we no longer need a national defense prepared to meet emergencies. This is the time to increase our vigilance by reaffirming our dedication to the traditional concept of the citizen-military. This will afford us a most effective defense organization at the lowest possible cost. To achieve this we must have the understanding and support of all Americans—those who are in or join our Guard and Reserve, the families of those individuals as well as their employers. In the case of employers, this could mean some reasonable adjustment in policy so that Guardsmen and Reservists can play their part in this nation's "total force" for national defense.

Chairs Committee
Last June, President Nixon asked me to chair a special committee whose objectives are to develop better public understanding of the vital role of the Guard and Reserve and to obtain the full cooperation of American employers in allowing and encouraging their employees to participate in the Guard and Reserve programs. When I accepted this assignment, I was confident that, once the need was known, American employers would willingly give their support and establish personnel policies which would encourage employee participation in these important programs. As the former Chairman of the Board of General Motors, I am happy to report that my faith in the American business community has not been misplaced. I have been greatly encouraged by the early response I have received from companies, both large and small, and by the many personnel policies sent to me as evidence of employer support.

It is now Department of Defense policy that in any future build-up of the Armed Forces, the National Guard and Reserves, and not the draft, would be the initial and primary augmenting element for the active forces. Under the "total force" concept, the all-volunteer force will be composed of 2.3 million active duty and 1 million selected reserve members.

Equipment Depleted
In the past three years, equipment inventories of the Guard and Reserves, badly depleted during the Vietnam build-up of the active forces, by Assemblyman Moretti, is have been replenished at an annual rate of more than $500 million. In the next fiscal year, the equipment build-up will exceed $1 billion, and the total investment of the Guard and Reserves will be the largest in any single year of our history. This addition of equipment is coming from existing resources. In addition, new missions have been developed bringing Guard and Reserve components more in line with active duty counterparts. With these substantial investments, there has been an intensification of the readiness training of the Guard and Reserve units.

A well-equipped and fully manned National Guard and Reserve, deployable on short notice, is potentially the most economical part of our defense system (30% of the manpower for less than 5% of the defense budget). An effective Guard and Reserve is also the best guarantee against having to use a peacetime draft in future years.

To be a member of the Guard and Selected Reserve one must devote a weekend a month, and an additional two weeks each year, to training exercises.

Employers Help
Fortunately, there are employers who encourage their employees to participate in Guard and Reserve programs. Their encouragement comes in the assurance that there will be no discrimination against those employees in their consideration for advancement; in the granting of military leave in addition to regular vacations; and in expressions of appreciation of their employees' contributions to the security of our nation. I urge all Americans, particularly employers, to support this concept, a concept on which our nation was formed nearly two hundred years ago and a concept which has retained our basic freedoms ever since.

Sincerely,
J. M. Roche
National Chairman
Committee for Employer Support of Guard and Reserve

Baha'is Offer Garden Classes For Children

The Baha'is of El Cajon Judicial District, which covers Lemon Grove and Spring Valley as well as El Cajon, have expanded the curriculum of their children's classes to include gardening taught by Mrs. Mallory Reich, of Lemon Grove.

"In a religion which claims that all men must have an occupation and that work done in a spirit of service is worship, the class offers a basic important lesson," Mrs. Reich said.

"By having every member of the families working together in a situation which is relatively unknown to them," she explained, "they will develop new ways of understanding each other, new respect for each other, and a new outlook on the world."

The garden classes will be conducted at 10 a.m. on Saturdays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis, 2018 Terra Kappa, Spring Valley.

V.L.M. Church Plans Mom-Daughter Dinner

The annual mother-daughter banquet for members of the Vista La Mesa Church congregation has been scheduled for tomorrow evening at 6:30 p.m., according to Virginia Neely, one of the organizers of the affair.

The dinner, which will be turkey, carries the theme "clownin' round."

'Mini-Crusade' Due

The Windsor Hills Baptist Church of La Mesa has invited the youth of this area to a "Mini-Crusade" with Ron Zenevski from Youth for Christ. The meetings run from Sunday through Wednesday, at 7 p.m.

Topics relating to the "needs and challenges" of youth include "Where is the Fire?" "Is it O.K. to Love Yourself?" "How Do You See Others?" and "How Does God See Us?"

The church is located behind Helix High School in La Mesa, off University ave., at Lowell.

CONVERGENCE 73 — Professional clown Elizabeth Wolf and several other members of the San Diego Clown Club will be featured performers at Convergence 73 in Balboa Park Sunday, a fund raiser planned by the United Nations Association of San Diego. Convergence 73 replaces the association's walks for development which were held the last four years. It features people converging on the Palisades area in Balboa Park in unusual means of transportation, such as scooters or pogo sticks.

Juniors Host Tea For LG Woman's Club

The Lemon Grove Woman's Club Juniors will be busy for the next week or so as the club plans a Mothers Day Tea, an installation dinner, and its regular monthly board meeting.

The tea, in honor of the group's "mother club", is scheduled for tomorrow noon in the clubhouse, as the juniors host members of the Lemon Grove Woman's Club.

Lorraine Lykens is in charge of refreshments for the affair, Roseann Cook will handle decorations, and Annamaria Padula has arranged entertainment. The Recettes, a local tap dancing group, will perform. Mrs. Cook said that decorations will include May flowers, May baskets, and a May pole.

Next on the agenda for the Juniors is the regular monthly board meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Lupe Casillas, 1637 Wtawood rd., Lemon Grove. Presiding will be Mrs. Cheryl Perry, president.

On May 19, installation of officers for the 1973-74 club year is scheduled along with an installation banquet at the Glenn Restaurant at the Chula Vista Municipal Golf Course.

The dinner, to get underway at 7 p.m., is for members and their husbands.

New officers to be seated, selected at the April general meeting, are Annamaria Padula, president; Roseann Cook, Caron Herdeg and Bonnie Gray, vice president; Lorraine Lykens, treasurer; and Sue Heusinger, secretary.

LG Business Women Set OTD Bake Sale

The Business Women's League of Lemon Grove will hold an "Old Time Days" bake sale May 18 and 19, in front of Weedman's Carpet and Furniture, 3331 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove.

A May 17 luncheon meeting will be held at Pal's Cafe, with Mrs. Al Huebsch presiding at the first meeting of the 1973-1974 term.

The group plans to join other Lemon Grove clubs and area church groups in an effort to establish a senior citizen's nutrition program, now in formation, as announced by Mrs. Huebsch at the installation dinner.

Walk To Top 'Healthy Baby Week' May 20

"Many of us have reached that point in our lives when we stop thinking of ourselves as our parents' children and start thinking of ourselves as our future children's parents," according to Lauren McGuire, a member of the March of Dimes' teenage team and chairman of the second annual Walkathon at Mission Bay May 20.

Miss McGuire, 1972 Fairest of the Fair, explained that the Walkathon will be the concluding event to "Healthy Baby Week," a prenatal care education program sponsored by the March of Dimes in its fight to prevent birth defects.

"Healthy Baby Week," beginning on Mother's Day, is supported by leading youth groups. San Diego County has a continuing education program "Operation Stork" through members of the B'nai B'rith.

"We who are so concerned with preserving a pollution-free environment should remember that a baby's first environment is his mother's body," Miss McGuire said. "If we take chances with unhealthy diet fads, drugs and other forms of body abuse we may be ruining the environment of tomorrow's youth."

Members of the San Diego Division, California Podiatry Association, headed by Dr. Richard M. Green, announced yesterday that they will assist walkers during the big charity trek May 20.

Sponsor sheets for the walk can be obtained by contacting the March of Dimes Walkathon, 6156 Mission Gorge rd., Room H, San Diego, or by calling 284-1166.

PRESIDENTS — Jim Dorman, left, president of the Lemon Grove Lions Club, is soon to become past president, as Les Cleer, of Cleer Signs takes over the position next month. Other new officers will be George Jenkins and Jerome Legerton, vice presidents; V. J. Dorman, secretary-treasurer; Ralph Cutcher, tail twister, and Fred Scheneman, lion tamer.

AUCTION PLANNED — Plans have been formulated for the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club auction May 19 at 11 a.m. in the Mayfair Market parking lot in Casa de Oro. Donated for the auction so far have been an electric train set, several televisions, many electric appliances, furniture, building materials, jewelry, paintings, and housewares. Proceeds will be used for Kiwanis youth projects. In photo, members of the club direct Debra Holland, Miss Spring Valley, as she puts the finishing touches on a canvas sign advertising the auction.

AREA OBITUARIES

Services Held Saturday For Joseph M. St. Ville

Requiem Mass was celebrated Saturday in Saint Joseph's Cathedral in San Diego for Joseph M. St. Ville, 76, of San Diego, who died May 2 at his residence.

St. Ville, a native of Louisiana, lived in this area for 22 years and was a member of the Knights of Columbus, Carillo Council 2891, and Elks Lodge No. 1688. He was owner of Aztec Bowl and Golden Bowl in Spring Valley.

Survivors include his wife, Norma; two sons, Edward and Joseph Jr., both of San Diego; and seven grandchildren. Entombment in Holy Cross Mausoleum was under the direction of Lewis Colonial Mortuary.

D. V. Gabriel

Funeral services were held Saturday evening in the Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary Chapel for Doris V. Gabriel, 55, of 1321 Cornwell st., Spring Valley, who died May 3 at Valley, who died May 3 at US Navy Hospital in San Diego.

Interment was in Mt. Hope Cemetery under the direction of Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary.

Survivors include his wife, Marian; three sons, Kenneth, Donald, and Stephen Bowers, all of the home address; a daughter, Laura Schmidt, of San Diego; his mother, Mrs. E. E. Robinson, of National City; and two sisters, Louisa Thompson and Bette Fears, both of Chula Vista.

The family suggested contributions to the St. Philip's memorial fund.

A. E. Cesena

Recitation of the Rosary was last Thursday evening at St. John of the Cross Catholic Church in Lemon Grove for Armando E. Cesena, 48, of Alhambra, California, who died April 30 in a Los Angeles hospital.

Cesena, a native of Lemon Grove, lived in this area for many years, attending Lemon Grove Elementary School and Grossmont High School. Requiem Mass was celebrated at St. John's Friday, with interment in Holy Cross Cemetery under the direction of Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary.

He was a veteran of the Korean conflict and was employed for 15 years with the Los Angeles Board of Education.

Surviving are two daughters, Linda and Patricia Cesena, and two sons, Richard and Robert Cesena, all of Alhambra; his mother, Luisa Cesena, also of Alhambra; three brothers, Guillermo Cesena, of Lemon Grove, Jesus Cesena, of Long Beach, and Robert Cesena, also of Long Beach; and one sister, Lily Pete, of San Diego.

In other lodge news, the group's Advancement Club will meet this evening, with Mrs. Eckenroth, president, presiding.

Nurses Sought For Red Cross Health Classes

The San Diego Red Cross needs Licensed Vocational Nurses and Registered Nurses to volunteer to teach nursing and health classes in the area.

"If these nurses have some extra time, they could be of great help to the community by becoming involved in health education," Mrs. Joseph Bogan, chairman of the Red Cross nursing and health program, said.

San Diego Red Cross will hold special classes to teach nurses to become instructors in specialized health classes.

Instructor training classes have been scheduled for 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., May 21, 23, 24 and 25 at the San Diego Red Cross, 3650 Fifth ave., San Diego.

After attending classes, the nurses will be able to teach courses for expectant parents, home nursing, babysitting, single parents, parents of toddlers, general health care and disaster nursing.

Interested nurses who would like to volunteer their time may obtain further information by calling Red Cross at 291-2620, ext. 258.

Mom-Daughter Lunch At Methodist Church

The annual Mother-Daughter dinner at Foothills United Methodist Church, Avocado blvd., is scheduled for Saturday, May 12, at noon, in the church social hall.

Theme of the event will be "Come To The Fair," and there will be a program and craft and hobby show in conjunction with the dinner. Tickets are still available and may be purchased by calling the church office, 463-9259.

Installation Dinner Held By Auxiliary

The members of the Edgemoor Geriatric Hospital Auxiliary were guests of the hospital dining room last month.

Auxiliary officers installed for the 1973-74 year include Mrs. Thomas Kinard, president; Mrs. Charles H. Muller, Mrs. James Mayes, and Mrs. Joseph Guest, vice presidents; and Mrs. R. W. Baskerville and Mrs. Harold Spring, secretaries.

Other officers installed were Mrs. John Bender, treasurer; Mrs. A. P. Christofferson, auditor; and Mrs. Fannie Ensor, parliamentarian. Installing officer was Andrew Matia, associate administrator of the hospital.

In other auxiliary news, it was announced that a membership tea would be held for prospective members at the hospital May 30. An indoctrination of new members is scheduled June 6.

SPEEDY — Cat Rayborn, a world famous motorcycle speedster who lives at 3306 S. Granada, in Spring Valley, is back from England where he competed in a series of races. In spite of a recently broken collarbone, he won one race and finished fourth overall. He is shown with the cigar-shaped motorcycle with which he set a speed record of 265.492 mph two years ago at Bonneville Salt Flats. He is a double winner of the Daytona 200 and last year earned more than $60,000 at his profession. Rayborn is 33 years of age and heads his own racing organization. He visited Sportscaster/Sportswriters weekly meeting to relate his experiences in England.

Sports Figures to be Roasted Again at May 31 Banquet-Show

San Diego's sportscasters and sportswriters will make their unique annual award when they turn to theatrics to roast "deserving" sports figures in San Diego at a banquet on May 31.

According to Bob Williams, executive sports editor of the San Diego Union and president of the Sportscasters/Sportswriters Assn. of San Diego, nominees for the 1973 Golden Jock Award are Chargers owner Gene Klein, and coach Harland Sware who is coupled as an entry with his offensive coordinator Bob Schnelker.

Also nominated as Padre President Buzze Bavasi, Conquistador basketball team owner, Dr. Leonard Bloom, and Sports Arena operator Peter Graham, who will try for a second straight win. Previous Golden Jock winners are: Graham, 1972; Bob Breitbard, 1971 and Sid Gillman, 1970.

'Funny Car' Races Set for Carlsbad

"Funny Car" drag races start Saturday at the Carlsbad Raceway and will continue on a twice a month basis until December according to George Vinas, race producer.

Races will be along a quarter mile track where the speed often reaches 200 miles an hour and parachute brakes are used.

Gates open at 7 a.m. with qualifying events from 8 a.m. 'til noon. Racing commences at 12:30 and concludes at 6 p.m.

Funny cars are vehicles with standard appearing bodies, but the rest of it is usually custom built nitro injection engines. Tickets are $4. The info number is 280-6381.

The track is on Palomar Mountain rd., three miles past the Carlsbad airport.

Monarchs Alone At Top Of Standings

Monte Vista moved back into sole possession of first place and Mt. Miguel slipped out of a tie for fifth to hold that position all alone in last week's Grossmont League baseball action.

Monte Vista whipped Helix by a 5-1 margin Tuesday then rallied to beat Grossmont, 3-2 Friday. The Monarchs, who have led the league since early in the season, moved into sole possession of the top spot when Helix upset co-leader El Capitan, 4-3.

Morgan Krehbiel was the star of the Tuesday game, as he smashed a solid single in the third inning to drive in two runs for the Monarchs, which later turned out to be all the team needed. Krehbiel also executed an unassisted double play.

On Friday, Monte Vista hosted the not-too-impressive Grossmont Foot-hillers, but the visitors gave the local team all it could handle before a one-out single in the last of the seventh inning gave Monte Vista the victory.

The hosts scored first in the fifth inning, but Grossmont tied it up in the top of the sixth. A throwing error enabled the Monarchs to go ahead again in the bottom of the frame, but Grossmont

Hitt Takes Second Place

It was a so-so week for Spring Valley and Lemon Grove area drivers at Cajon Speedway Saturday, as John Dineen of El Cajon grabbed most of the glory by setting the fastest qualifying time and winning the 30-lap main event.

Lemon Grove driver Jim Hitt won the fast heat race for the evening, but couldn't catch up to Dineen after being held back in traffic for much of the main event.

Spring Valley driver Pat McIntyre, winner of the season opener, was involved in two spinouts early in the race and couldn't make up the distance.

More action is set for Saturday with qualifying at 6:30 and races at 8 p.m.

Pony Pitchers Toss Double No-Hitter

The Casa de Oro Pony League field was the scene of the unusual last week when the Cardinals beat the Reds, 4-0, on a no-hitter by Jim Campbell.

Making the game unusual was the fact that Bill Stockwell, twirling for the losers, also pitched a no-hitter, but was victimized by errors, which accounted for all four Cardinal runs.

Giants To Engage Padres When Home Play Resumes

A giant of a mid-May baseball bash is booked into San Diego Stadium next week.

The Giants and the Padres meet for the first time in San Diego this season for a three-game showdown starting Monday.

The big boppers from the Bay have jumped off to a furious start and have given suitable notice that they will figure prominently in the wild scramble for the western division title.

Night games starting at 7:30 are scheduled for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, after which the Padres depart on a two-city road trip.

With Willie McCovey pounding away toward another homer-happy season, the Giants feature what might be the most explosive attack in baseball.

But the Padres have their own offense in high gear. The return of Dave Campbell to full physical strength, the solid improvement of Derrel Thomas, the continuing brilliance of Fred Kendall and the fine play of rookie John Grubb have provided the necessary backing to the one-two-three punch supplied by Lerone Lee, Nate Colbert and Cito Gaston.

The Padres will travel to Cincinnati and Los Angeles before returning to the Stadium on May 25 to face the Phillies. . . . It'll be Jack-In-The-Box Bat Night with 25,000 approved Little League bats given away to boys and girls 14 and under. . . . Bat Night tickets are on sale now and may be purchased by mail: write Padres Tickets, Box 2000, San Diego 92120.

The Padres will present a fashion show, "Swing Into Summer," on May 31 starting at 6:30 at the Royal Inn at the Wharf. . . . Fashions will be by Joseph Magnin with Padre players and their wives modeling. . . . Tickets for the

El Cap, Helix, Miguel To Vie In Track Finals

El Capitan, Helix, and Mt. Miguel will go head-to-head tomorrow afternoon when Mt. Miguel hosts the Grossmont League track and field finals at 1 p.m.

In qualifying last week, Mt. Miguel placed 16 men, the same as Helix and one less than El Capitan.

Helix seems to have strength in the 100-yard dash, the middle distance races, and the field events, while Mt. Miguel looks good in the 880, the mile, and the hurdles.

While the varsity athletes went about their qualifying last week, the real star of the day turned out to be Monte Vista's Bill Davies, who was the only runner to better the two-minute mark in the 880. Making that unusual is the fact that Davies is a junior varsity performer.

Paper Drive Underway

Youngsters in second grade classes at La Presa Elementary School are in the midst of a paper drive which they hope will finance a trip to Sea World at the end of the school year.

They are bringing papers from home as part of the drive, but also hope that members of the community will donate their back issues. The school is located at 519 La Presa ave., Spring Valley the drive ends May 31.

Proxy Pro-Am Added To Comedians' Golf

A new form of competition will be introduced on May 19th, the final round of the annual Comedian's Golf Classic which will be played at La Costa C.C., site of the recent Tournament of Champions. It's called Proxy Pro-Am by its inventor, Milton Blackstone, golf writer and Executive eDirector of the CGC. "The way it works is that each group will have a pro, as in major tournament pro-ams," Blackstone said, "except the pros competing in our event will be playing another par 72 course, the Colonial C.C., where they are also playing in the Danny Thomas Memphis Open at the same time. None of our teams will know their total scores until they finish and find what our scorekeepers have on the board after receiving word from Tom Place, PGA field staff, in Memphis. He will call the scores into us as soon as they've completed their Saturday round. The exception will be the team in which Lanny Wadkins will be competing. He will be at La Costa, in person, Blackstone said.

Wadkins, is the Comedians' choice of their Pro of the Year Award for 1973, was the biggest money-winning rookie, ever, in 1972. After La Costa, where he tied for fifth in the Tournament of Champions, he went on to win the prestigious Byron Nelson Golf Classic in Dallas.

Wadkins will be playing with Buddy Hackett on Saturday, May 19, during the Proxy Pro-Am, and will attend the Awards Banquet later that evening.

Tickets good for grounds and clubhouse admission are $5 a day and available at most offices of associations concerned with the retarded and other handicaps, who are permitted to retain all of the ticket proceeds. Tickets are also available at all Home Federal Savings & Loan Assn. offices.

Further information may be obtained by calling the tournament office—459-8255.

INDOOR TRACK — Bob Seagren sails over the bar at 18 feet. Holder of the world vault record at 18-5 1/4, Seagren is one of the world's all-time greats competing on the International Track Association pro track tour. Seagren will be among nearly 100 professional athletes taking part in the ITA track meet May 19 at the Sports Arena. The two-section meet starts at 1:30 and 8 p.m. Al Franken, noted sports producer, is promoter.

Sunday Racing Scheduled For 1973 Del Mar Season

Del Mar — With the approval of Sunday racing for the 34th summer season opening July 25, officials of the Del Mar Thoroughbred Club today announced a substantial increase in the purse and stakes program for the 1973 meeting.

Sanction for Sunday programs for the seaside track came last week from the California Horse Racing Board. Del Mar will race on a Wednesday through Monday schedule for the seven weeks, with Tuesday as the "dark" day.

Purse and stakes distribution is expected to be well in excess of $3,000,000. Twenty-four added money features, three more than previously announced, will make possible outstanding stakes events for the Sunday programs. For the 24 stakes, Del Mar will offer a record $660,000.

Three new stakes have been added — the $20,000 Rancho Bernardo Handicap on Sunday, Aug. 19 for 3-year-olds and upwards at a mile and a sixteenth on the turf; the $20,000 El Cajon Stakes, for 3-year-olds at a mile and one-eighth on the grass, to be run Sunday, Sept. 2, and the $20,000 Chula Vista Handicap, for older horses, also at a mile, and one eighth on the grass, set for Saturday, Sept. 8.

The stakes schedule, prepared by Director of Racing Louis H. Eiken and Racing Secretary Peter W. Tunney, will see 11 traditional events increased in value. They have tried for balance in the program with 10 specials for 3-year-olds and upward, six for 3-year-olds and eight for 2-year-olds. Of these, eight are for fillies and 12 are to be contested on Del Mar's popular infield turf course.

Richest event of the season, the $100,000 Del Mar Invitational Handicap for older horses at a mile and three furlongs on the turf, has been carded for the final Sunday of the meeting, Sept. 9. And the traditional Del Mar Futurity, expected to gross in excess of $100,000 for 2-year-olds, will close out the summer season on Wednesday, Sept. 12.

TICKET SALE — Mrs. Steve Tallian, of Lemon Grove, sells souvenir ticket to Riggs-Court tennis match to Dell Lake, president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, as Mrs. Tallian's son, Greg, looks on. Tickets to the tennis match, which pits aging tennis pro Bobby Riggs against women's tennis great Margaret Court in a winner-take-all $10,000 match, will benefit the diabetes association. Young Tallian is a diabetes victim.

Former S.V. Man Named Tennis Pro

A Monte Vista High school graduate has been named director of the Rancho Bernardo Tennis College.

Edward S. Collins, 26, who attended Spring Valley Junior High School and was graduated from Monte Vista in 1964, succeeds Vic Bradon, who left Rancho Bernardo to pursue other interests in the Los Angeles area.

Collins, who now lives in Mission Hills, lived at Rancho rd. and Calavo while attending local schools which included Grossmont college. He was graduated from San Diego State in 1968.

The Tennis College located at the Inn first of its kind in the United States, specializes in a two-day crash course in tennis skills. Coaching devices include television tapes, teaching lanes, recorded instructions, movies, lectures, demonstrations, classroom strategy discussions and intensified on-court instruction.

Since 1971 Collins has been on the teaching staff at San Diego's Morley Field. A graduate of S.D. State with a master degree in physical education, Collins has initiated a number of teacher education and junior development programs in San Diego tennis.

He is co-director of the new San Diego Tennis Coaches' Clinic, and is a leader in the Spring Workshop for S.D. Tennis Teachers and the annual U. of C. Tennis Workshop for Teachers at La Jolla.

Collins was instrumental in developing the S.D. Junior Tennis League and the S.D. Junior Davis Cup workouts. He also writes articles for national tennis magazines.

After graduation from State Collins was teaching pro at the prestigious Berkeley Tennis Club.

Berg, Kiwanis Move Up Into First Place Tie

Another exciting week of baseball action in the Spring Valley Little League left three teams tied for first place.

Berg Electric won a pair of games, whipping Luigi's, 6-3, then smashing Dial Finance, 3-0, on a five hitter by Eric Franke, and stopping Luigi's, 10-9, as Gordie Nicholson doubled home Jeff Newman with the winning run in the bottom of the last inning.

Berg and Kiwanis moved into a tie for first place with One Hour Martinizing when the former leaders split a pair of games, whipping Moose Lodge, 3-0, on a combined one-hitter by Richard Sing and Zane Cramer, but losing to Jackson Supply, 5-3, as Kevin Bland tossed three innings of shutout ball for the winners.

In the only other major division games, Moose Lodge beat Letter Carriers, 5-2, and Letter Carriers knocked off Jackson Supply, 5-4.

In the intermediate league, three close games were played, as Mission Bay beat Quick Way, 13-12, Quick Way topped Alesi Plumbing, 15-14, and Heath's Texaco trumped Mission Bay, 14-13. Highlighting the minor league action was a grand slam by Ron Stuart of Mission Bay.

In the minors, Maple Cottage and Polar Frozen Foods each won a pair of games and are now in a four-way tie for first place with Worthy Plumbing and AC Appliance.

In the Rookie League, Jackson Supply and SV Shopping Center each won two games to tie for first place after one week of action.

"The Life and Times of Tennessee Williams" will be featured during a series of programs presented by Grossmont College's Office of Community Services.

The series, opening at 8 p.m., Tuesday, May 15, will continue each Tuesday through June 12 in the Fine Arts Recital Hall.

The series will open when the San Diego Union's music and drama critic, Donald Dierks, speaks on "The Dramatic Contributions and the Importance of Women in Tennessee Williams' Plays." Other programs will feature interpretive readings from Tennessee Williams' plays presented by the college's Forensics Workshop, Williams' films

Films scheduled for screening include "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," "Summer and Smoke," "Sweet Bird of Youth" and "Suddenly Last Summer." The public is invited. There is no charge for admission.

Nearly two million workers are engaged in growing, processing and marketing wine and audience discussions in Italy.

Red-Black Game Set For Friday

San Diego State's annual Kramer as runningbacks and Red-Black game will be Brad Stewart in the backfield, whistled to life Friday at 7:15. The alumni will play Haven in Aztec Bowl.

It is traditionally the end of spring scrimmage for State. State's new coach Claude Gilbert will field quarterback Tim Delaney, Bill Van Loen, Jesse Freitas and have Dave wen, Tuffy Avii, Randy Bix-Darden, Tim Thorn, Bill ler, Joe Lavender, and others.

This family will picnic 500 feet from a nuclear station. Their biggest threat is sunburn.

Each year, hundreds of families visit the State Park right down the beach from our San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station. They fish, swim, picnic...and many of them join the half-million visitors who've toured the San Onofre Visitor Center in the past five years.

This year, the Center's better than ever, with new slide presentations, films, and displays. So you can have even more fun discovering why nuclear energy is the cleanest, most dependable way to meet growing energy demands. And why it's safe as sunshine.

The Visitor Center is 15 minutes north of Oceanside on Highway 5 and it's open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. So visit us soon. Bring a family picnic, if you like. And don't forget the suntan lotion!

One-Day Scout Fair At Del Mar Saturday

Months of planning turn in to actuality Saturday at the 23rd Annual Scout Fair own right, with unusual talents unfolds before an estimated 70,000 persons.

The event is sponsored by the San Diego Council, Boy Scouts of America, as Scouting's report to the community. Gates will open at 10:30 a.m.

"We've already reached several objectives in making it the biggest in history," general chairman Boy Arnhym said. "One goal was to have more than 350 units participating. Knud Antonsen, who is coordinating activities has already processed that number of entries."

Patrick Tobin forecast a record sale of tickets. He based his optimism on early ticket turn-ins with more than 40,000 tickets reported sold.

The Scout Fair has taken on the prominence of a regular fair. Its attendance is comparable to the largest single-day turnout at the Southern California Exposition.

"It is more than Scout units putting up static exhibits," said Arnhym. "There will be more than 100 different kinds of activities ranging from back packing to battling pollution. A great number of Scout troops developed their own ideas."

Visitors can munch on hot dogs, hamburgers, and popcorn while strolling through 11 different lands and areas of endeavor keyed to the overall "Wonderful World of Scouting" theme.

These include Indian country, aqua adventure, pioneer land, chuck wagon trails, adventure land, survival land, skills and crafts, exploring the future, conservation and ecology, and fun land.

"Shades of Rhythm," a musical group made up of members from Explorer Post 241, will stake a warm-up session for 30 minutes. Mills will formally kick off the stage show at 2 p.m. with a brief presentation of "wit and patter."

He'll be followed by C. C. Jones and his group; Dr. Michael Dean, popular hypnotist, will cap the presentation. "Having Mills, Jones and no charge for admission."

DISBELIEF — Eve Arden leaves no doubt that she does not believe what she heard by phone in the Off Broadway play, "Under Papa's Picture?" In the play she is cast as an unmarried, pregnant, middle-aged grandmother.

Eve Arden Scintillates In Off Broadway Comedy

by Max Goodwin
If "Under Papa's Picture?" more, his attractive and sensitive wife, and Robert Nichols, Broadway offering — doesn't cut it, nothing will.

It's got comedy, romance, and a touch of drama. But most of all it has Eve Arden in a cute story.

When Miss Arden walks on the stage, it becomes living theatre—a condition that Don Wortman and Tom Hartzog had promised when they took the theatre over early last month.

"Picture" concerns Miss Arden as a youngish, widowed grandmother who is in the later days of her unmarried pregnancy. She is visiting her son, a young, pompous, establishment type, and his family. The situation is complicated when Miss Arden's lover—the father of their child—follows her. The lover-father, an Italian artist, is in real life Brooks West, Miss Arden's husband. The two make up for any weaknesses in the rest of the cast.

And counterpointing Miss Arden's outstanding performance is Esther Sutherland—Cleona—a short, fat, extremely funny, black maid. To best describe Cleona is a line in her program biography. "Her specialty—a Louis Armstrong impression." We would have suspected it even if we hadn't read it.

But she sticks strictly to being a funny maid in "Picture" but she does look like Armstrong.

Others in the cast include Danny Wingard, excellent as the couple's 10-year-old son; Perry Bullington as the boor.

Crafts And Stitchery Workshop Scheduled
A crafts and stitchery display and workshop will be presented by Jan Colton and her sewing circle at the Casa de Oro Library May 17 from 1 to 3 p.m.

Patrons will be able to see the display of knitting, crocheting, embroidery, macrame, quick point, crewel work, treadle weaving, and quilting May 14-17. Anyone wishing to learn any of this work may bring materials to the workshop on Thursday and receive instruction.

The Casa de Oro Library is located at 9628 Campo road, phone 463-3236.

Local Students Claim Awards

Two area high school youth will be among top county seniors receiving a total of $4,300 tonight at the annual San Diego Savings and Loan Clearing Association "Outstanding Student" banquet in the Bahia Hotel.

In announcing awards winners, clearing association president Stan Murdock said the 48 honored scholars are representative of excellence in academic work, citizenship and leadership.

Among those to be noted by individual savings and loan associations will be Mount Miguel High School student Richard Debus, receiving his 100 award from Central Federal Savings and Loan Association.

A like cash stipend will go to Pamela Sue Osinski of Monte Vista, sponsored by Imperial Savings and Loan Association.

Each of the recipients honored tonight will additionally be given an engraved bronze medallion by California Savings and Loan League staff vice president Robert McAndrews.

Helix, Miguel Students In Joint Conference

Consumer education and 18 year-old rights were some topics emphasized at a joint Helix High School and Mt. Miguel High School leadership conference held recently at Camp Palomar.

Students who attended the conference were ASB officers, class officers, girls league cabinet, commissioners, cheerleaders and other school leaders. The weekend gave the incoming officers a chance to ask previous officers about their jobs for the following year.

Students were assigned to groups and were asked to discuss pre-determined subjects. This year's subjects were consumer education, 18 year-old rights, open studies in school and the ASB.

New Officers

The Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club last week elected 1973-74 officers, who will be seated October 1.

Mike Carlen, of Lemon Grove Rexall Drug, was elected president of the club, while Bert Cosby, of Pacific Telephone, and Elmer Ringelsen, of Skyline Rollarena were named vice presidents.

Secretary for the new term will be Gary Conrad, of Conrad Mortuary. Al Woods, of Bank of America, will serve as treasurer.

The new board of directors will include William Floyd, James Helvin, Woody Mott, Richard Linquist, Vern Officer, Robert Swenson, and James Terry.

Mother-Daughter Dinner Is Saturday

Plans are in order for the annual Mother-Daughter banquet at the First Baptist Church of Spring Valley, Troy, to be held Saturday, at 6:30 p.m., in the social hall. Thelma Lewis, church secretary, said "if you don't have a mother or a daughter, borrow one and come along. Friends of church members are especially invited."

Two longtime members of the church have been reported hospitalized, due to illness: Norman Fields in Navy Hospital; and Mrs. Fannie Stevenson, in Paradise Valley Hospital.

Top Bands Expected For La Mesa Tourney

Top high school bands from five states will compete for trophies and $3,350 in cash awards tomorrow and Saturday in the La Mesa Western States Music Tournament.

Bands will come from as far as Oklahoma, Idaho, and Texas to enter the tournament, which includes a free concert at Grossmont High School at 8:40 a.m. and again at 7 p.m.

Highlighting the two-day affair will be a tournament parade at Grossmont Center Saturday at 9:30 a.m. Laora of Anaheim is favored to win for the fourth time in as many years. Helix High will be host band for the parade and will not compete.

Topping off the tournament will be a "half-time" show at Aztec Bowl at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Kentucky will observe its bicentennial in 1974.

Brown Re-Elected To

Head Transport Board

Second District Supervisor Dick Brown has been re-elected as Chairman of the California State Transportation Board, it was learned last week.

Brown, who represents Lemon Grove and Spring Valley, is beginning the third year of a four-year appointment, which was made by Governor Ronald Reagan. The Transportation Board members elected him as chairman a year ago and re-elected him May 3, 1972, to serve a second term.

The State Transportation Board deals with state-wide major transportation matters, such as the recent legislation applying gasoline tax funds to regional mass transit.

Outdoor Life is Good In Kern River Country

by Max Goodwin

The people of Kernville have a lot of wilderness to be proud of.

Kernville is a resort community northeast of Bakersfield—just north of Lake Isabella. Kern River flows through the center of the town. Needless to say, the community's economy is based on recreation.

Leaders in Kernville take their responsibility seriously. Other Southern California areas could follow Kernville's suit to bring pride—and tourists—to their town.

One Kernville project is "sampling." A group there formed a Visitors Council. The Council brings in and entertains outdoors writers, a couple of times a year. The writers "sample" the good life around Kernville over a long week-end without cost to themselves.

That in itself isn't unusual in promoting recreation areas—but how they do it is. They take the writers into individual homes for meals and other socialities. But more about that later.

The project at Kernville is sponsored by the Kern County Board of Trade—a sort of county-wide chamber of commerce. Jim Radoumis and Dan Bennage, executive vice president and assistant manager, respectively, co-ordinate the program. It makes sense in that the whole county profits from the recreation dollar.

The Board of Trade fellows arrange a motel accommodations and are thoughtful enough to have three bottles of Kern County wine in the room. The motel owner supplies his accommodations without cost.

Steak For Breakfast Mealtime, during each of three days, is spent at a different home. Some of the homes are exquisite. And so are the meals. Where else could you expect steak for breakfast?

Between meals fishing in Kern River, Lake Isabella or golfing on the community's 9-hole downtown golf course is encouraged. We fished.

High temperatures at Mt. Whitney, headwater of the Kern River, was causing a strong run-off. The Kern was roily. Lake Isabella had risen 20 inches in 24 hours. Fishing was not good.

It was the opening of trout season along Kern's tributaries and a goodly number of sportsmen was about. Boats speckled Isabella and river fishermen could be seen working the river's accessible spots. There are more than 45 camp grounds within a 25 mile radius. The cost is modest—starting at $1 per car per day including utilities. Most camp grounds are operated by the County, the U. S. Corps of Engineers and the U.S. Forest Service. There are many privately owned public grounds available, too. Lake Isabella is run by the Corps of Engineers.

Many visitors had come from sportswriters who had been guests of the Kernville Visitors Council and who had waxed enthusiastic in print or on the air upon returning home. Just like us!

Kern River Valley is virtually a wilderness: It is sparsely inhabited. Most of it is park land, never to be developed. Only 2,000 acres in the valley and on mountain sides are in private ownership.

Some of this may be developed eventually. Living is slow-paced, and the residents are friendly.

This will indicate the kind of people visitors may expect to encounter on a fishing foray to Kern River Valley:

Lake Is Clean

Jim Woods, Isabella Lake manager for the Corps of Engineers: "We keep the lake well-disciplined, clean and well-stocked. We put 80,000 trophy trout in Isabella last week (April 27). We've got 560,000 acre feet of water and three fine marinas. People who visit say they are glad they came."

Joe Swartz, president of the Visitors Council and operator of two of the three marinas at Lake Isabella: "Our Council is dedicated to providing visitors with pleasant outdoors recreation. We know we are successful because so many sportsmen return. At my marina we keep 100 boats ready and maintain a staff of 20 employees with plenty of guides."

Oscar Greene, Visitors Council member and gasoline distributor: "I enjoy being one of the hosts to the writers. I've never met one I didn't like. Invariably they become as enthusiastic about Kernville as we are and they pass their enthusiasm on to their readers."

Cliff Hewitt, a director of the Kernville Board of Trade and member of the Visitors Council came to Kernville 12 years ago and helped develop it to its present attractiveness: "Our residents are proud of our natural resources and want to share it. But we are jealous of anything that would tend to injure us environmentally," he said.

"The hills and valleys are 95% owned by government agencies and dedicated to park use. That leaves only a few hundred acres for further development. We look closely at anything that might be in adverse interest to the scenic beauty of this area."

Millionth Visitor

Jim Radoumis said that some time in June the 20 million visitor-day sportsman will drop his line in Lake Isabella and that a special award is being planned for him. A visitor-day is one person spending 12 hours in the area.

Radoumis noted the work being done on a new, straighter road being built on the northwest wall of the Kern River canyon between Bakersfield and Isabella. The present one is a wearisome, curved low-speed two-lane road—but scenic!

Dan Bennage reminded that ducks, deer and quail attract hunters to Kernville in the winter. "Kern County has something for every sportsman," he said.

And the writers in the guest party readily agree with him.

H. R. "Bob" Holdeman—President's recently resigned chief of staff. He is a stern disciplinarian and extremely loyal to the President. His reputation for knowing all that occurred among the President's staff suggests that he may have known about the Watergate matter. This has not been proved so far.

Sally J. Harmony—Secretary to Gordon Liddy. She is alleged to have typed for Liddy reports of Democrats' private conversations under the code name of "Gemstone." Liddy is a convicted conspirator in the Watergate case.

Howard E. Hunt Jr.—A veteran of 20 years of CIA service who was convicted as a Watergate conspirator. He was a White House consultant and had been doing intelligence work for the Nixon campaign committee. He was involved in the Bay of Pigs matter and has authored more than 40 spy novels.

Herbert W. Kalmbach—The President's personal attorney and major fund raiser. He has admitted paying more than $30,000 in campaign cash to alleged saboteur Donald Segretti on orders from Chapin. Kalmbach handled the purchase of the San Clemente property for the President.

Richard G. Kleindienst—Attorney general who worked under John N. Mitchell and then succeeded him to the post. Kleindienst warned the president April 15 that high administration and justice department people were facing indictment. He figured in an ITT anti-trust ruling and the ITT's pledges of support for the GOP national convention. Also involved was a memo by ITT lobbyist Dita Beard.

Frederick C. LaRue—A former special consultant with a White House staff office. He was Mitchell's assistant in the Nixon campaign and is said to have handled secret campaign funds. He is a Texas oilman.

Gordon G. Liddy—Jailed Watergate conspirator who took an 8-16 month jail sentence rather than talk to the grand jury. Highest ranking official arrested to date. Liddy has links to higher offices and his testimony can open additional cans of worms. Liddy worked under Ehrlichman prior to becoming financial counsel of the Nixon campaign in Dec. 1971. In Feb. 1972, according to testimony, he presented bugging plans to a group which included Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, White House Counsel John Dean, and former presidential aide Jeb Magruder. Liddy once proposed bugging the N.Y. Times regarding leaks on the Pentagon Papers. Before joining the Nixon forces he was fired from a Treasury Department post.

Jeb Magruder—If one man could be the first from whom hard facts came, it was Magruder. Formerly a special assistant to the President and second in command during the campaign. It was he who reportedly linked Liddy, Mitchell and Dean to the bugging plans.

Robert C. Mardian—Worked as assistant attorney general for John Mitchell and was architect of the indictments and prosecutions in the Pentagon Papers affair. He became political coordinator of the Committee for Re-election of the President and directed its internal investigation of Watergate.

Eugenio R. Martinez—A Cuban caught inside Watergate and jailed. A real estate dealer with Bernard Barker and a Bay of Pigs veteran with CIA.

James W. McCord Jr.—While security director for the Re-election Committee he was caught leading the Watergate break-in. A former FBI agent with 19 years in the CIA, it was his statements to U.S. Dist. Judge John J. Sirica that broke open the cone of silence. He told the judge that Mitchell, Magruder and Dean had advance knowledge of the break-in.

John N. Mitchell—Former attorney general and director of the President's 1968 and 1972 campaigns. Mr. Nixon's closest confidant and a partner in the Wall Street firm Mr. Nixon joined after he lost the race for governor of California in 1962. Just prior to resigning, he is reported to have admitted that he had been involved in Watergate bugging discussions.

Martha Mitchell—John Mitchell's wife who adds to Mitchell's woes with weird charges—usually to the news wire services.

Robert C. Odle—Former White House aide and personnel director to the reelection committee. He denied he had part in destruction of records. He was involved in the hiring of James McCord.

Lawrence F. O'Brien—Democratic National Committee chairman at the time of Watergate. Later he was campaign manager for George McGovern. He called Watergate "an incredible act of political espionage."

Sylvia Panarities—A secretary of Liddy's. She confirmed for the grand jury that there had been a Feb. 1972 meeting between Liddy, Mitchell and Magruder. She said Liddy had her hide a brown paper package behind an office bookcase and Liddy later removed it. It is suspected that these were the bugging plans.

Henry E. Petersen—After Kleindienst took himself out of the case, Petersen has become the highest Justice Department official supervising the investigation. He reports directly to the White House.

Robert F. Reiser—Principal assistant to Magruder at Nixon campaign headquarters. Reiser testified he had removed sensitive files from Magruder's office—including one marked "Gemstone"—after a telephone call from Magruder.

Donald H. Segretti—A California lawyer who allegedly carried on espionage and sabotage on the west coast against Democratic presidential candidates under Dwight Chapin and Gordon Strachan, a White House assistant to Haldeman.

Earl J. Silbert—Chief prosecutor at the Watergate trial. Chief U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica—Watergate judge who was irritated by defendants who refused to testify. He suggested that he might review sentences of the seven who were already sentenced if they decided to cooperate. McCord's decision to talk was a result.

Hugh W. Sloan Jr.—Nixon's campaign treasurer and ex-member of the White House staff. Sloan told the grand jury Sloan gave him $350,000 in small bills a day before the new, tough campaign disclosure laws became operative. The money was kept in a White House safe by Haldeman. Seven months later Sloan said he delivered the money to LaRue. At the trial, Sloan testified he had given Liddy $199,000 on Magruder's orders.

Maurice H. Stans—President Nixon's finance chairman of a multi-million dollar campaign fund he helped build. A self-made millionaire with strong business abilities, he was appointed secretary of commerce. Officials believe that Stans had no prior knowledge of Watergate but that he knew of $89,000 in campaign funds that were channeled through Mexico to conceal the source.

Gordon Strachan—Formerly Haldeman's aide and one time member of Mr. Nixon's law firm. He is now general counsel for the U.S. Information Agency. He is said to have joined Chapin in recruiting Segretti and has admitted handling $350,000 in campaign money kept in the White House safe, under the care of Haldeman. The grand jury was interested in his reasons for taking the money from the safe to Frederick LaRue at the Watergate apartments instead of taking it to the campaign committee offices which are right across the street from the executive office building where the money had been kept during the campaign.

Frank Sturgis—Described as a middle-aged soldier of fortune who has smuggled guns to Castro's rebels in Cuba and training anti-Castro guerrillas in Guatemala.

Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr.—Member of the Ervin committee who, despite being a freshman Republican senator (Connecticut) denounced the White House for "cover-up" tactics. He asserted that Haldeman "probably did" know surveillance and disruption methods were being used.

Peter H. Wolf—A Washington lawyer for a minor campaign worker for Nixon. He said he had carried away eight boxes of documents from Howard Hunt's White House office a day after the break-in and a day before an official search of the office was made.

Ronald Ziegler—President press secretary who ridiculed reporters for asking questions about Watergate, proclaiming it "a third rate burglary attempt." After the heat was turned on Watergate and seven men were indicted, Zeigler announced "the other (previous) statements are inoperative... the statement today is the operative statement."

Zeigler is a protege of Haldeman.

vast amounts of their new-found wealth to finance the political campaigns of candidates and causes which they can count on to preserve and promote their special interests. Who will the public official listen to when it comes time to negotiate a contract, the public, the employees, or the union bosses to whom they owe their office?

An example of the extremes to which this can go is the $1.7 million that the California State Employees Association collected as dues and spent to promote Proposition 13 on last November's ballot. Fortunately, there is no compulsory unionism for state employees. Imagine how much would have been spent and the amount of political injustice that would have been suffered by state workers who disagree with the CSEA if they were not protected by a "right-to-work" law.

Sincerely yours,
David Y. Denholm
Executive Secretary

Dear Editor:

The annual San Diego County Scout Fair will take place Saturday at the Del Mar Fairground. Scout units—Cub Packs, Scout Troops, Explorer Posts—from this district will take part in the fair. Scouting is new these days. New uniforms, new handbook, new programs. For example, there are special older boy activities in scuba diving, computer technology, and high mountaineering.

In Explorer units they even have girls!

Many of us recall Scouting of the old days, when the Smokey Bear hat was worn and names like Dan Beard were almost sacred and we knew the knots and semaphore and the spiral reverse bandage. We recall those days with a fond nostalgia for they were a formative factor of our boyhood. But we're eager to see this new Scouting.

Educational Boat Trip To Coronados Sunday

A boat trip to the Mexican islands, Los Coronados, off the San Diego coast to observe marine mammals and birds is planned for 5 a.m. Sunday by the Museum of Natural History. The educational voyage will be led by Museum's curator of birds and mammals, Dr. Joseph Jehl, and John Sloan, Museum's chairman of education. They expect to see ocean birds such as the murrelet, auklet and shearwater as they circle the islands, as well as porpoise in the off-shore waters.

During a 3-hour observation period in the island waters, the boat will make a 20-mile circle of all four islands. Sloan hopes to come within 10 feet of harbor seals resting on shore and on rocks off shore and observe gulls and cormorants who will be courting and nesting at this time of year. Brown pelican nestlings can also be anticipated. Elephant seals and sea lions are more wary, Sloan said, and cannot be approached so closely. Usually, they will tolerate man only at a distance of 50 yards or more. It is not too late to hope for a sight of a gray whale straggler northward bound.

Passengers will board the SCA I, a 70-foot, twin-hull vessel, at the Islandia Sport-fishing dock at 5 a.m. Sunday. They anticipate arriving at the Islands by 7 a.m. and will spend three hours in observation and lectures before beginning the return trip. Home port will be reached about 11:30 a.m. No landings will be made on the excursion.

Fee is $9 for members of the museum and $12 for non-members. Food is available from the boat's galley. Pre-paid reservations are required as only 75 places are available.

For details call the Museum's Educational Activities office, 232-9146.

Public Hearing Called For Decision on CPO

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—County supervisors are going to once more try to get city participation in a conference on the voting structure of the Comprehensive Planning Organization (CPO).

At a previous meeting, held some months ago, city participation was totally lacking.

Supervisors Lou Conde and William A. Craven have called for an evening conference May 24, at 7 p.m.

The county still has not relaxed its requirement for at least as many votes as any other jurisdiction.

This means that the county will not join CPO unless it has at least equal voting weight with the city of San Diego.

The city has 40 votes, the county could have 30, and the remaining 30 are spread among the 12 other cities according to population.

Supervisors are also insisting the CPO will not ultimately set itself up through legislative action as an official body with taxing, enforcement and veto power without direct consent of the electorate in each jurisdiction.
